Everything You Need To Know This Week On New York's Art Scene

By Daniel Reynolds, October 24, 2012

Albert Watson: Cyclops

Since birth, Scottish photographer Albert Watson has been blind in one eye. His artistic vision, however, is without parallel, and he is recognized as one of the greatest and prolific photographers of the past century, with subjects ranging from President Clinton, to Mick Jagger, to Steve Jobs, to Queen Elizabeth II. In its upcoming exhibition, Hasted Kraeutler will display rare, vintage photographs that span Watson's career, including portraits of many of these world luminaries.
